WHAT'S THE LATEST?

Hey everyone! It has been a while since we have done one of these. With an all new setup this will be the first of many more. With our new look at promo news, we have a mix of newsletters and videos down the pipeline. For newsletters, keep your eyes on your email. For videos, well do the same, but also subscribe to our YouTube Cannel Nature's Spirit Fly Tying for the latest.

We have a bunch of tutorial videos, along with tying techniques that we want to share with you. We will also feature the latest video posted in the column to the right. _____>>>>

As for this newsletter, lets get started with a couple of new products we are excited to show you. First up, Yeti Hair!!

YETI HAIR

This is one material we are very excited about, and if you have talked to me on the phone or seen our Instagram Page, you would know this excitement has been going on for months. Yeti Hair is a Long Fiber natural product that is a bi-product of our African Goat Dubbing. We got in a new supply that averaged 7" in length. That's right, 7 inches. This is a long fiber with lots of movement that makes even Craft Fur jealous. Did I mention that it's a natural product? Yeahhhh, that Craft Fur is jealous.

One of the beautiful things about this material is its blend-ability. With many of our shades such as Brown Olive, Gray Olive, Rusty Brown, and such are blended instead of a straight dye batches giving this material a much more natural variegation. With that natural variegation look, it allowed us to have a little fun with Yeti Hair. We came up with one rule, any blend that is three colors or more must have a mythical creature name. for example, a few of the names are Sasquatch Olive, Bigfoot Brown, Wookie Gold, and Sulli. Yes, Sulli as in the Monster's Inc. movie which has a blend of Silver, Purple, Royal Blue, and Fl. Blue.

You see, with the blends it gave us a way to add some flair to the Yeti Hair. Another example, Sasquatch Olive is Olive, Black, and Fl. Chartreuse. Bigfoot Brown is Brown, Gold, Tan, and Fl. Yellow. Are we catching on? Nothing like a little lighting coursing through the blend. By doing this it made each blend much more unique, and grants a bit more than a normal mottled look.

Now for the tying style. Like we said this is a bi-product and that has us excited. The dimensions are the exact same all the way through the hair. Meaning that each individual fiber does not taper. This gives you two great advantages. First, with it being 7 inches in length it can be a bit long for most applications. This allows you to cut the material to any given length to fit your need. A much more multi-purpose material with its length. Second, this means that when you cut it you can pull Yeti Hair to make the ends uneven and give it a taper after cutting it shorter. Perfect for tying anything from large Pike Flies to small strip leech patterns and clousers. Finally if you want, flash mixes in with Yeti Hair very easily. I can still feel the jealousy from Craft

Fur...

Oh and by the way, did we mention this is a great replacement for Icelandic Sheep? We think you might have a new favorite material once you give Yeti Hair a try.

CUT IT UP WITH ANADROMOUS

Now before we let you leave, we need to have a discussion about a specific tool company that is entering our lineup, Anadromous Fly Company.

We have been keeping our eye out for a replacement when Anvil went out of business, and we found the perfect one. We have been working with Anadromous over the last few months testing samples and getting things rolling. Not only are we impressed by the quality, but the sharpness of their scissors as well. How impressed? I personally took a pair of their 5" razor scissors and put them through a bit of an odd test. One that would prove the sharpness as well as the durability of their product.

I was going to take them and cut one pound of Goat dubbing. We have to cut it down to 1 inch for our African Goat, and well... what better test... after a blister and a band aid they did the job, and they stayed sharp. How Sharp? I have put 3 pounds in total through them. I am not testing them further, my thumb hurts, 3 pounds is enough. To give an idea of the volume of a pound, the pillow on your bed is about the size of one pound of dubbing.

You are going to see us use their scissors pretty much exclusively now in all of our videos and promo. That's how much we are loving these scissors. We currently started with black handle for everything, and we are working on colors to come soon. Also, did I mention they have bobbins and other tools too? Check out their website to see everything. We could not start with everything, but we will be adding more and more as we continue our exciting growth with Anadromous.
